Website for parking services is:
http://www.usf.edu/administrative-services/parking/parking/visitor-parking.aspx

9. AWARD

Vendor’s proposals will be evaluated based on the requirements set forth in this Invitation to Negotiate. The University reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

Vendors may be required to answer questions and may be required to make a presentation to the evaluation committee regarding their qualifications, experience, service, and capability to furnish the required service(s).

The award(s) shall be made by the University to the most responsive and responsible vendor whose final proposal is determined to be the most advantageous to the University taking into consideration price and other criteria as set forth in the Invitation to Negotiate.

The University’s intent is to award on an “All-or-None Total Offer” basis.

10. PROPOSAL TABULATION

Vendors desiring a copy of the proposal tabulation for the Invitation to Negotiate may request a copy via email to the ITN point of Contact Michael Hernandez mahernandez@usf.edu. Proposal tabulation will be available after award and will be posted on the Purchasing website. The proposal tabulation is an accounting of initial proposal information received relative to requested information and may not include price information. Proposal results will not be given out over the telephone.

11. THE INVITATION TO NEGOTIATE PROCESS

The ITN process is a flexible procurement process that is used when highly specialized and or variable services or products are required. Negotiations offer an opportunity for selected Vendor(s) to discuss their responses with an evaluation committee. The goal of this comprehensive process is for identification of the optimal outcome or the solution that best meets the needs of the University. Only representatives of the participating Vendors who are authorized to negotiate and make agreements shall be involved in negotiations.

12. EVALUATION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on criteria identified in the Section III - Specifications. Any information a Vendor deems essential to the evaluation of the services offered, for which no provision is made in the ITN, should be clearly stated in the proposal. While the University reserves the right to request additional information or clarification from Vendors at any time in the process, Vendors should not assume that they will be allowed to amplify or modify their initial written proposal. The initial response must be a clear and easy to understand explanation of the products, services, benefits and prices offered and should include information as to how all specifications will be met.

13. NEGOTIATION WITH VENDORS

To identify vendors for negotiations, submitted proposals will be evaluated, presentations may be requested, and references may be verified and reviewed. The University will compare the proposals according to the evaluation criteria described in SECTION III for the purpose of identifying vendors for negotiation.

Vendors may be invited to continue in the negotiation process. Negotiations offer an opportunity for the selected Vendors to discuss their offers and proposals in further detail with the University. Selected vendors may be given the opportunity to refresh their initial offers. Refreshed proposals allow vendors to match or exceed the offers made by...
competitors, both as to services and cost. This allows the University to secure services which best meet its needs, at a highly competitive and favorable cost. At the conclusion of this negotiation process, the University may ask selected vendors to submit a written best and final offer, to memorialize all agreements reached during negotiations and to extend additional benefits to the University, if desired. Invitation to submit a best and final offer is not automatic. After this negotiation a final Vendor(s) may be selected.

14. INVITATION TO NEGOTIATE FORM

All proposals shall be submitted using the University of South Florida Invitation to Negotiate form as a cover to be considered for an award of the proposal. The form shall be completed in ink or typewritten, signed by an authorized signatory of the Vendor and returned with the proposal in a sealed envelope. Vendor is responsible for marking the outside of the sealed envelope with the proposal number and the opening date.

The Invitation to Negotiate form and all related pages are a legal document and cannot be altered by the Vendor in any way. Any alteration made by a Vendor may disqualify the proposal and the response may be considered invalid. Any necessary changes to an Invitation to Negotiate document will be implemented by written addenda to the proposal issued by Purchasing Services.

15. RIGHT TO NEGOTIATE

Upon evaluation of the responses, the University has the right to enter into negotiations with one or multiple Vendors that appear to have submitted proposal(s) that best meet the needs and requirements of the University. Negotiations could include but are not limited to price and the terms and conditions of this ITN.

If for any reason a Vendor(s) and the University cannot arrive at a mutual agreement that would result in the issuance of a contract, the University reserves the right to terminate negotiations, to reject the proposal(s), and to continue negotiations with other responsive Vendors that may lead to the issuance and award of a contract.

16. VENDOR’S RESPONSIBILITY

It is understood and the Vendor hereby agrees that it shall be solely responsible for all services that it proposes, notwithstanding the detail presented in the Invitation to Negotiate.

17. VENDOR’S EXPENSE

All proposals submitted in response to the ITN must be submitted at the sole expense of the Vendor, whether or not any agreement is signed as a result of this Invitation to Negotiate. Proposers will pay all costs associated with the preparation of proposals and necessary visits to campus and other required site visits.

18. NUMBER OF PROPOSALS SUBMITTED

Vendor shall submit one (1) original proposal-clearly mark as “original” and one (1) copy. Vendors must also submit one (1) Electronic copy preferably on a flash drive. Proposals that do not include all of the requested copies may be disqualified at the sole discretion of the University of South Florida.

19. PROPOSAL REJECTION

The University shall have the right to reject any or all ITN proposals and in particular to reject an ITN proposal not accompanied by data required by the Invitation to Negotiate or an ITN proposal in any way incomplete or irregular including the omission of pricing information. Conditional ITN proposals may be considered non-responsive.

20. OPEN COMPETITION

The University encourages free and open competition among vendors. Whenever possible, specifications, invitations to negotiate, and conditions are designed to accomplish this objective, consistent with the necessity to satisfy the University’s needs and the accomplishment of a sound economical operation. The Vendor’s signature on their ITN proposal guarantees that the prices quoted have been established without collusion with other Vendors and without effort to preclude the University from obtaining the lowest possible competitive price.
21. ORAL PRESENTATION

After ITN proposals have been opened, Vendors submitting ITN proposals may be requested, at the sole option of the University, to make oral presentations or provide written clarifications. Such presentations or clarifications will provide an opportunity for the Vendor to clarify the proposal. Oral presentations may be recorded. Recorded oral presentations and written clarifications will be affixed to the Vendor’s ITN proposal and become part of the same as if originally submitted.

22. MISTAKES

In the event of extension error(s), the unit price will prevail and the bidder's “Total Offer” will be corrected accordingly. In the event of addition error(s), the extended totals will prevail and the bidder's “Total Offer” will be corrected accordingly. Bidders must check their bid proposals for any such errors and state the discount(s) in the proposal, where applicable. Failure to do so will be at the bidder’s risk.

In the event a mistake results in the written request of a Vendor withdrawing any part of the proposal, the Vendor must withdraw the entire proposal package and the University will not consider that proposal for award of ANY of the subject ITN. This applies to all requests for withdrawal. The only exception to this policy would be a case where the mistake was the result of misinformation unknowingly supplied by the University. In this event, a waiver of policy must be approved by USF Purchasing Services whose decision shall be final.

Vendors must check their proposals for any errors. Failure to do so will be at the Vendor’s risk.

23. RIGHT TO TERMINATE

In the event any of the provisions of the contract are violated by the successful proposer, the University may serve written notice upon Vendor of its intention to terminate the contract. Such notice will state the reason(s) for the intention to terminate the contract. If the violation does not cease and satisfactory arrangements for correction are not made within ten (10) days after the notice is served upon the Vendor, the contract shall cease and terminate. The liability of the Vendor and/or his surety for any and all such violation(s) shall not be affected by any such termination.

24. CANCELLATION

For the protection of both parties all contractual obligations shall prevail for at least 90 days after the effective date of the contract. After that period, for the protection of both parties, this contract may be cancelled, in whole or in part, by either party by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the other party.

25. FORCE MAJEURE

No default, delay or failure to perform on the part of the either party shall be considered a default, delay or failure to perform otherwise chargeable, hereunder, if such default, delay or failure to perform is due to causes beyond either party’s reasonable control including, but not limited to, strikes, lockouts or inactions of governmental authorities; epidemics; acts of terrorism; war; embargoes; fire; earthquake; acts of God; or default of common carrier. In the event of such default, delay or failure to perform, any date or times by which either party is otherwise scheduled to perform shall be extended automatically for a period of time equal in duration to the time lost by reason of the excused default, delay or failure to perform.

26. PAYMENT

The University will make partial payment in the amount of the value of items or service received and accepted by the University in response to a request by the Vendor along with the submission of a properly executed invoice, and supporting documents (if required). The University shall issue the Vendor’s payment within 30 days after receipt of an acceptable invoice and receipt, inspection, and acceptance of goods and/or services provided in accordance with the terms and conditions of the purchase order/contract. The University’s preferred payment method is P-card. No additional charges will be accepted for use of P-card payment. Any penalty or delay in payment shall be in accordance with section 55.03, Florida Statutes. The University’s vendor ombudsman, whose duties include acting as an advocate for vendors who may be experiencing problems in obtaining timely payment(s) from the University may be contacted at 813-974-2481.
27. FEID NUMBER

The awarded Vendors will be required to supply their Federal Employee Identification Number or Social Security number prior to entering into the final agreement.

28. W-9 (W-8BEN for Foreign Vendors) FORM

Awarded Vendors are required to complete and return the USF Substitute W-9 (or appropriate IRS W-8 Form for Foreign Vendors). The W-9 or W-8 must be completed and signed before a contract can be approved.

29. STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

It is a breach of ethical standards for any employee of the University to accept, solicit, or agree to accept a gratuity of any kind, form or type in connection with any contract for commodities or services. It is also a breach of ethical standards for any potential vendor to offer an employee of the University a gratuity of any kind, form or type to influence the development of a contract or potential contract for commodities or services.

30. USF TOBACCO AND SMOKE FREE POLICY 6-026

As of January 4, 2016 the University of South Florida is a tobacco free campus. Smoking, tobacco use, and use of related products is prohibited on all property owned, leased or operated by USF. This includes, but is not limited to, all indoor and outdoor areas and properties. Additionally, no smoking and/or tobacco products will be sold or advertised on the USF Tampa campus. This Policy applies to all faculty, staff, students, vendors and visitors. Complete policy details can be found at: http://regulationspolicies.usf.edu/policies-and-procedures/pdfs/policy-6-026.pdf

31. AMERICAN WITH DISABILITIES (ADA)

The Vendor awarded this proposal/proposal shall agree to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990.

NOTE: If special accommodations are required in order to attend any event or meeting in conjunction with this Invitation to Negotiate, please notify Purchasing and Property Services at (813) 974-2481 at least 5 working days prior to the scheduled event.

32. PUBLIC RECORDS

Sealed proposal responses received by the University pursuant to Invitation to Negotiate are exempt from the provisions of the Florida Statute Chapter 119 until such time as the University provides notice of an intended decision or until thirty (30) days after the opening of final replies, whichever is earlier.

The University reserves the right of unilateral cancellation for refusal by the Vendor(s) to allow public access to all documents, papers, letters, or other materials subject to the provisions of Chapter 119 and made or received by the Vendor(s) in conjunction with this resulting contract.

33. EQUAL OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

The University believes in equal opportunity practices which conform to both the spirit and the letter of all laws against discrimination and is committed to non-discrimination based on race, creed, color, sex, age, national origin, religion or disability. To be considered for inclusion as a vendor under this agreement, the bidder commits to the following:

You are invited to submit a proposal for analyzing the epigenome (methylation) of samples collected from high-risk children. The University of South Florida (USF) will issue a subcontract to a laboratory or laboratories that will analyze the DNA samples collected within the TEDDY study.

The due date for submittal of proposals is 3:00 pm EDT, April 4, 2019. Offerors are hereby advised that any proposal received after this date will not be considered further and will be held unopened until after award at which time it will be retained with other unsuccessful proposals. II. BACKGROUND AND PLANNING

Type 1 Diabetes (T1D) is one of the most common and serious chronic diseases in children and appears to be increasing globally, particularly in the very young. The etiology of the disease remains unclear. There is a substantial genetic susceptibility to T1D. High risk HLA class II alleles appear to contribute 40-45% of the genetic risk; other genes have also been identified as providing more modest contribution to risk. However, additional unidentified factors are important in the etiology of this disease.

Epidemiologic patterns suggest that viruses, nutrition, toxic agents or socioeconomic psychosocial factors may contribute to the etiology alone or in combination. Elucidation is confounded by the long interval between exposure and onset of clinical disease as well as the interaction of multiple genes, insults, or both, which appear to interact in a complex manner. Numerous studies have investigated environmental influences but have yielded conflicting results. This may be in part due to the failure to account for genetic susceptibility, begin observation at early ages or in utero, and/or monitor subjects long term and frequently. It is also important to recognize that islet autoimmunity marked by autoantibodies to islet autoantigens such as insulin, GAD65, IA-2, and ZnT8 may precede the clinical onset of diabetes by many months or years.

The Environmental Determinants of Diabetes in the Young (TEDDY) study will investigate genetic and genetic-environmental interactions, including gestational infection or other gestational events, childhood infections or other environmental factors after birth, in relation to the development of prediabetic autoimmunity and T1D. The prediabetic autoimmunity is defined by the appearance of autoantibodies against insulin, GAD65, IA-2 in addition to ZnT8 in select samples. A consortium of six centers has been assembled to participate in the development and implementation of studies to identify environmental factors that trigger the development of islet autoimmunity and T1D in genetically susceptible individuals.

The TEDDY study has recruited a total of 8,668 neonates out of which 7,749 neonates were from the general population with a pre-determined T1D risk of 3% (tenfold above that of the background population) and 919 were neonates with first degree relatives who have T1D and a pre-determined T1D risk of 5-10% before 10 years of age. Thus, we have studied a total of 8,668 high risk participants across six clinical centers worldwide (Finland, Germany, Sweden and three in North America). The first Primary Outcome measure is appearance of one or more islet cell autoantibodies: GADA, IAA, or IA-2A confirmed in two different laboratories and at two consecutive visits. It is expected that approximately 800 subjects will develop autoantibodies during the entire course of the study. The second Primary Outcome is development of T1D expected that 390-400 subjects will develop T1D during childhood and adolescence. The TEDDY study completed enrollment in 2010. As of January 2019, 794 subjects have developed a first islet autoantibody. Among those 329 are single autoantibody positive, 196 have two and 269 have three autoantibodies. A total of 339 subjects have developed diabetes.

In recent reports T1D has been associated with changes in the epigenome; however, few studies have systematically assessed the epigenome profile for longitudinal changes associated with progression to disease. TEDDY children at risk for T1D have been prospectively followed with appropriate samples at frequent intervals. A DNA sample has been prepared at each interval to study the epigenome.

The TEDDY follow up schedule and blood sampling frequency and volumes are available at the web site http://teddy.epi.usf.edu/research/. There are a total of approximately 5000 samples available for methylation studies from both cases and matched controls. Each case or control has samples collected quarterly up to the development of autoantibodies or T1D as per protocol. Details of the TEDDY protocol are available in the following articles:

This is an ideal sample set for testing the hypothesis that some previously reported markers might be linked with the appearance of the first beta-cell autoantibody and later progression to the clinical onset of the disease.

This ITN aims to establish a laboratory that will analyze whole blood epigenome, specifically methylation, for biomarkers associated with the progression to autoimmunity and clinical diabetes in at-risk individuals. The key aims will be to catalogue the methylome during development of beta-cell autoimmunity and progression to clinical onset. The analysis of the epigenomic patterns holds promise for unveiling pathways involved in early disease progression, and potentially for identifying prospective biomarkers of this progression.

It should be noted that the TEDDY study also focuses on frequent measurement of broad environmental exposures, beginning at infancy and continuing through achievement of study endpoints. The potential therefore exists to correlate environmental exposures to epigenetic changes linked to disease progression.

There are six Clinical Centers in the TEDDY study. The samples available for investigators in this ITN are DNA samples that have been stored frozen at -70°C in the TEDDY Repository. There are a total of approximately 5000 samples available from the case-control cohort. The clinical centers are clinical research units staffed by a Study Coordinator and other necessary personnel under the supervision of a Principal Investigator. Each Principal Investigator works with the Data Coordinating Center (DCC), the Steering Committee and the NIDDK staff in developing and executing this ITN. The epigenetic laboratory is expected to enter a scientific collaboration with the TEDDY study investigators.

III. STATEMENT OF WORK AND REQUIREMENTS

Epigenetics is the study of heritable modifications of DNA which can alter gene expression without changing the DNA sequence and can be influenced by environmental factors, such as smoking. DNA methylation (DNAm) is an epigenetic event that occurs at cytosine – phosphate – guanine (CpG) residues and can be modified by both genetic and environmental exposures. Genetic and epigenetic interactions have been postulated to contribute to susceptibility to a number of autoimmune disorders. Current evidence suggests that DNA methylation changes are associated with T1D but whether this is due to intrinsic genetic differences, which can influence DNA methylation, is not yet known.

There has been some previous work focused on identifying methylation differences among T1D monozygotic twins, allowing changes of DNAm levels that are associated with environmental exposures to be captured but no study has systematically investigated whether DNAm is causally influencing T1D in a large number of samples. Genetic variance has been reported to explain 24% of methylation variance in childhood and 21% in middle age, when T1D can develop.

The analysis of epigenomic patterns holds promise for unveiling gene pathways involved in diseases, for identifying diagnostic and early disease progression markers, and for identifying therapeutic targets. The ultimate goal of this ITN is to generate a comprehensive understanding of how the epigenome relates to autoimmune status as well as progression to diabetes, and apply such knowledge in translational research.

Qualified laboratories must submit a proposal encompassing all of the analyses listed. The applicant should describe in detail the rationale for the strategy proposed, which should include an appropriate number of samples from subjects that developed autoimmunity, T1D, and controls.

Project teams with appropriate interdisciplinary expertise in epigenomics, statistics, biomarker discovery, T1D, and that are also knowledgeable about the TEDDY samples are encouraged to apply.

The TEDDY study is interested in characterizing the prediabetes and T1D epigenome to determine how it differs from the normal epigenome. Epigenomics has shown to be useful in identifying several potential disease biomarkers. However, these have not been extensively validated and the availability of the large number of TEDDY samples is a unique opportunity for validation of previously described markers, and for the discovery of novel markers consisting of differential methylation at specific loci. Such information may, for example, offer a basis for novel diagnostic and therapeutic strategies, and/or enable improvements in the existing strategies. Various factors, such as research subject heterogeneity, environmental agents, diet, toxic exposures, and drugs, may influence the state of the epigenome on a transient or permanent basis. Thus investigations must take into account all these influences, especially via improved analytical methods to process and interpret the vast amounts of data generated by high throughput platforms in the context of pathological conditions (e.g., diabetes). The ultimate goal of this ITN is to generate a comprehensive understanding of how the epigenome is affected in prediabetes autoimmunity and T1D, and apply such knowledge in translational research for prediction of prediabetes or T1D, and identification of therapeutic targets and strategies in this disease.

Qualified laboratories must submit a proposal encompassing all of the analyses listed. The time period for this contract is approximately August 2019 to August 2020. This contract is subject to cancellation if the criteria below are not met.

The Epigenetics Laboratory will:

1. Develop a protocol for receipt, short-term storage and preservation of samples sent from the TEDDY Repository.

2. Receive specimens (with bar-coded ID labels) from the TEDDY Repository. The laboratory must have a system for handling specimens with bar-coded ID labels.

3. Review/inspect samples upon receipt; report receipt and integrity of samples (e.g., missing, thawed, broken) and report any problems in handling and shipping directly to the TEDDY Repository, and to the DCC using TEDDY data systems. The laboratory must work with the Repository to resolve any shipping issues and discrepancies.

4. Provide the necessary freezer space for short-term storage of TEDDY samples.
5. Perform analysis of all agreed samples using the agreed strategy and platforms. The following points should be addressed in the proposal.

- The overall strategy for analyzing the TEDDY samples and identifying markers of beta-cell autoantibody development as well as progression to T1D should be described. Details on the number of samples, volumes, and replicates if feasible, should also be given.
- The samples and data should be analyzed in a way and in an order that the least possible bias is introduced (e.g. the site of collections, order of analysis of control versus samples from T1D subject, etc.). A procedure/strategy used for reducing bias should be described.
- The statistical approach for assessing and/or determining correlation with autoimmunity and progression of disease should be described.
- The present knowledge of the disease mechanism, genetic factors, and pathways and networks that are involved should be considered when interpreting the data. A strategy for taking advantage and integrating the present knowledge should be described.
- A strategy for analyzing the data in the context of all other information that is available for the TEDDY samples should be described including interaction and collaboration with internal TEDDY scientific committees, as applicable, as well as external TEDDY bioinformatics study groups.
- A strategy for deconvolution for the interpretation of the data considering the multi-cellularity (whole blood)

6. Summarize and interpret results of the analyses for publications in accordance to TEDDY publications policies and procedures.

7. The ultimate number of samples will depend on the experiments proposed. Since this will be a cost reimbursement subcontract, laboratories must indicate a budget on a cost/sample basis. It is, however, expected that some component of the project will have a budget that will not significantly change with the number of samples (e.g. publications, data modeling and interpretation) and, therefore, might not follow the cost/sample model.

8. It is expected that all the raw data, results and metadata be transmitted using TEDDY data systems to the TEDDY Data Coordinating Center. All information must be transmitted electronically to the DCC following set guidelines that will be outlined by the DCC. Laboratories must have e-mail communication capabilities and Internet access. All the instrument generated data files, quality control (QC) related files, QC reports, Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) log files, intermediate data files, processed/normalized/summarized data files (after QCing the data) and any other files in various formats from all the samples (including internal/external Lab QC samples) requested by the TEDDY members are required to be transferred to the TEDDY Data Coordinating Center (DCC). Additionally, the lab is required to describe the structured relationships between each of these digital objects, share the source code and the bioinformatics analytical pipelines (including the name and version number of the tools/software, parameters used and reference files (e.g. reference genome build)) used for the analysis with DCC. The lab is required to provide description (as ReadMe.txt file) and md5sum (to verify data integrity and detect unintentional data corruption) for each of the transferred data files to the DCC.

9. It is expected that the Epigenetic Laboratory eventually selected will provide the necessary expertise in quality control analyses through the use of internal standards and other quality control measures as well as providing the necessary bioinformatics expertise to provide high quality and reliable information.

10. NOTES
   i. The DCC or TEDDY Laboratory Implementation Committee and Quality Assurance Committee will conduct a site visit of the Laboratory at their discretion.
   ii. Costs associated with transport of samples to the Epigenomics Laboratory will be paid by the DCC.
   iii. Costs associated with transmitting the data to the DCC are assumed by the Laboratory.

Additionally, the lab is required to describe the structured relationships between each of these digital objects, share the source code and the bioinformatics analytical pipelines (including the name and version number of the tools/software, parameters used and reference files (e.g. reference genome build)) used for the analysis with DCC. The lab is required to provide description (as ReadMe.txt file) and md5sum (to verify data integrity and detect unintentional data corruption) for each of the transferred data files to the DCC.

The evaluation will be based on the demonstrated capabilities of the offeror(s) in relation to the needs of the project as set forth in this ITN. The merits of each proposal will be evaluated carefully, based on the thoroughness and feasibility of the technical approaches taken.

Offerors must submit information sufficient to evaluate their proposals based on the detailed criteria listed below. Failure to provide the information required to evaluate the proposal may result in the rejection of that proposal without further consideration. In addition to the used technologies the offerors should indicated the amount of DNA sample which is needed for the planned analyses and how the samples will be processed.

CERTIFICATE OF NON-SEGREGATED FACILITIES

We,

certify to the University of South Florida that we do not and will not maintain or provide for our employees any segregated facilities at any of our establishments, and that we do not and will not permit our employees to perform their services at any location, under our control, where segregated facilities are maintained. We understand and agree that a breach of this certification is a violation of the Equal Opportunity clause required by Executive Order 11246 of 24 September 1965.

As used in this certification, the term "segregated facilities" means any waiting rooms, work areas, rest rooms and wash room, restaurants and other eating areas, time clocks, locker rooms and other storage or dressing areas, parking lots, drinking fountains, recreation or entertainment areas, transportation and housing facilities provided for employees which are segregated by explicit directive or are in fact segregated on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin, because of habit, local custom or otherwise.

We, further, agree that (except where we have obtained identical certifications from proposed subcontractors for specific time periods) we will obtain identical certifications from proposed subcontractors prior to the award of subcontracts exceeding $10,000 which are not exempt from the provisions of the Equal Opportunity clause; that we will retain such certification in our files; and that we will forward the following notice to such proposed subcontractors (except where the proposed subcontractors have submitted identical certifications for specific time periods):

NOTE TO PROSPECTIVE SUBCONTRACTORS

OR REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTIFICATIONS OF NON-SEGREGATED

FACILITIES. A Certificate of Non-segregated Facilities, as required by the 9 May 2067 order on Elimination of Segregated Facilities, by the Secretary of Labor (32 Fed. Reg. 7439, 19 May 2067), must be submitted prior to the award of a sub-contract exceeding $10,000 which is not exempt from the provisions of the Equal Opportunity clause. The certification may be submitted either for each sub-contract or for all subcontracts during a period (i.e. quarterly, semiannually, or annually).

NOTE: Whoever knowingly and willfully makes any false, fictitious or fraudulent representation may be liable to criminal prosecution under 18 U.S.C. 1001.
